Master Plan Of Highways Is Approved

City Council Adopts Guide for Development for Future Need

Big Improvement Project is Started to Cover Large District

Approval of the master plan of the Regional Planning Commission as applied to Sierra Madre was voted at Tuesday's meeting of the city council. A poolroom license was granted to W. E. Deutsch, the old Firemen's Club was reimbursed for money borrowed on the city hall lot, and a resolution of intention for a big street improvement program was adopted.

William J. Fox, engineer for the Regional Planning Commission, presented the master plan to the council, with explanations of the detailed studies used in its development. Special attention was given to the probable future growth, and increase of motor traffic.

The plan is designated to coordinate the highway system of all cities of the county and of unincorporated territory. Major highways of 100 feet width and secondary highways of 80 feet, are designated. These do not commit the city to improve these streets at any particular time, according to Mr. Fox. The map is approved simply as a guide toward the ultimate requirements which will care for the traffic needs of the maximum population which can be accommodated in the territory.

By the commission's plan, Baldwin and Live Oak avenues are designated as major highways, with Sierra Madre, Central and Grand View as secondary highways. In addition a highline boulevard of undetermined width is shown on the map, higher on the mountainside than any street now open.

The resolution of intention for improvement of a portion of Laurel and Montecito avenues, and Montecito Court includes the construction of a large number of concrete culverts to replace old culverts with wooden tops, and the replacement of a considerable amount of cobblestone gutters and curbing. The details may be found in the resolution published on another page of this paper.

W. E. Deutsch presented a petition with 270 names asking that he be granted a license to operate a poolroom in the Kersting building at the corner of Central Avenue and Windsor Lane. He said he would run a place absolutely free from gambling of any kind and would not even put in slot machines. The license was granted on motion of Councilman Isaacs by a four-to-one vote, with Mayor Lawless voting in the negative.

Attorney Wygant reported that either the Mattoon Act or the 1927 Improvement Act would be feasible for improvement of highways in Canyon Park district. He proposed that a meeting of the interested property owners be called for explanation of the two plans, so they could take their choice.

The request of J. E. Carpenter for a new dump truck for the street department was referred to the finance committee.

Councilman Belohlavek reported the finance committee had approved the contract with Mr. Wygant as city attorney and on his motion it was adopted by the council. It provides for a salary of $100 as legal advisor to the council, with additional pay as may be agreed for all extra work such as litigation, bond or street improvement proceedings.

The sum of $2784.64 was voted to be paid over to H. E. Allen as trustee for the old Firemen's Club. This will clear up the business in connection with the city hall lot. The city receives the cancelled mortgage which was placed on the lot by the club to meet its indebtedness, together with some additional notes issued by the club. In return the city had the benefit of the foundation built for the firemen's clubhouse, and finally used for the city hall, on which the club expended over $7900. In addition the club provided housing for the city fire engine for four years at a cost of $1040.

Donald Thayer, who went east late in December to fill concert engagements, arrived home on Thursday for a short stay, after which he will leave again to fill other bookings.

NEWS WANTADS AGAIN PROVE THEIR STERLING WORTH

That "News Wantads Pay" was again demonstrated last week when a "want" that was inserted for two issues, four weeks ago, found a customer for the advertiser. Not only did it sell the article two weeks after it had been discontinued, but the purchaser lives in South Pasadena, and is not on the News subscription list. Yet, in calling, he referred to the "ad in the want column."

If you have anything to sell, or if you want to buy something at a bargain, use the News Wantads—you will not be disappointed.

Mrs. Ada M. Robbins of Torrance is spending the week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Gibson of Marlborough Terrace.

Players to Offer Fine Attraction

Three One-Act Plays to Be Given on the Same Program

Initial effort of Sierra Madre Community Players will be given on the evenings of January 25 and 26 at the Woman's Club house.

Most of the Players are well known to Sierra Madre audiences, in fact the most popular actors and actresses are nearly all included in the casts that make up the personnel of the three one-act plays to be presented.

The performance is in the nature of a benefit for the Community Players for whom there is a busy season ahead. Soon a Membership Night will be held, admission by membership card only. Several organizations have applied for productions in the near future.

In regard to the forthcoming production of one-act plays, amusement is the prevailing key note of the bill. "Back to Your Knitting," with a cast composed of Mmes. Senour and Gay, and Misses Green, Virginia Jones and Mattie Seelye, and Messrs. Wood, Sadler, Hawks, Calkin and David Allen combining as it does some of the features of the mystery play, so popular with theatre goers and good comedy comments on human nature promises bright entertainment. This play is under direction of Mrs. Harold E. Allen.

"The Stronger" by August Strindberg, introduces a serious element and is in the hands of Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Allen. David Buchanan is presenting "The Eve in Evelyn," a peppy comedy of young love triumphing over the plans of an irate father and is full of interest and laughs. The production is in the hands of Mr. Hawks and Mr. Gruit and the lighting effects are assured by the fact that Mr. Rudolph Hartman is in charge.

The casts: "Back to Your Knitting," by Jules Eckert Goodman: Sherrod Schramm, Randolph Wood; Mrs. Sherrod Schramm, Margaret Senour; Clara, their daughter, Virginia Jones; Mrs. Clyde Delahanty Grey, Mrs. Gay; Annabelle, her daughter, Mattie Seelye; Miss Imogen Abernathy, Edna Green; John Henry Smith, Stafford Sadler; Prof. Walter Graydon, Jas. N. Hawks; Wilson, a detective, Mr. Calkin; Boy, David H. Allen. "The Stronger," by August Strindberg: Mrs. X, Cecily Allen; Miss Y, Janet S. Wood. "The Eve in Evelyn," by Glenn Hughes: Evelyn Price, Betty Moore; Roger Pratt, Davis S. Buchanan; J. Edward Price, Harold Tweedale; Mrs. Price, Mrs. Fennel; Sam Briggs, John Oswald.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd of Galva, Ill., arrived in Sierra Madre last week for a winter outing and have taken a bungalow in Bellevue Court. Mr. Boyd is head of a manufacturing concern making heating equipment. Mrs. Boyd was a college friend of Mrs. E. D. Burbank and Mrs. R. S. Corlett. They have been receiving many social attentions since their arrival. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless gave an outdoor luncheon in their honor, the guests including the Burbanks, the Corletts and Mr. Corlett's sister, Mrs. Handerson. Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Corlett gave a dinner party in their honor.

Miss Grant Retires As President

Resignation Due to Need for Extended Period of Rest

Mrs. J. H. Robertson Selected As Successor by Board of Directors

Resignation of Miss Harriet Grant as president of the Woman's Club and appointment of Mrs. J. H. Robertson as her successor is announced today by the directors of the club. Miss Grant's retirement meets with general expressions of regret, both at losing her from the position she has filled so well and at the circumstances making it necessary to give up the work.

The following statement is issued by Mrs. Elmer A. Green, who succeeds the newly appointed president as press chairman, on behalf of the board of directors:

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club has suffered a great loss in the resignation of its president, Miss Harriet Grant. Sierra Madre as a whole has suffered in losing from among its residents so fine a citizen.

Miss Grant has found it absolutely imperative because of frail health to relinquish all activities in civic and club life for the present. Her friends know her unflinching devotion to her invalid father for five years, coupled with her determination to give of her best to her town and club, have taken too much strength from a not overly strong constitution. She is at present in retirement at the beach seeking to build up her strength so that later in the spring she may be able to journey to her old home in Huron, S. D. The people of Sierra Madre are looking forward to the time when she will once again take up her residence amongst them.

Miss Grant's short regime as president of the Woman's Club has done much to put the club on a happy and solid foundation. Her quiet dignity and precise, logical mind made her a charming and effective presiding officer. Her unflinching allegiance to all who worked with her on her board or on committees made work in the club this year a pleasure for those concerned.

Mrs. J. H. Robertson is the unanimous choice of the board of directors as Miss Grant's successor and she has already thrown herself enthusiastically into the work of the presidency. The club is fortunate, indeed. Mrs. Robertson has a strong personality and an educational background which will be of great help to her. She has a B.A. from the University of California and was formerly for several years one of the valued teachers in the Sierra Madre public school.

Dan O'Leary Will Appear On Diamond

Famous Pedestrian Will Give Exhibition, Walking the Bases

Don O'Leary, who has held many national and world records as a pedestrian, was a Sierra Madre visitor on Thursday, and made arrangements to return for a walking exhibition on Sunday. Mr. O'Leary, who is 90 years of age, will appear at the baseball park, where he proposes to walk six times around the bases in five minutes. This will be a distance of 2160 feet at the rate of a mile in a little over 12 minutes. Mr. O'Leary began winning walking matches in his native Ireland, and achieved the national championship in 1864. In 1878 he won the world's championship competition in London. He says he has done the baseball diamond stunt in most of the large cities of this country and is still going strong.

R. J. Ball and family of Loveland, Colorado, arrived in Sierra Madre this week for a visit with Mr. Ball's brother, Luckey D. Ball of the Sierra Madre Hotel. Mr. Ball is publisher of a daily newspaper in Loveland.

The Illinois State Society will hold its annual picnic Saturday, January 19, Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles. H. J. Brubaker is president of the organization.

Theatres Offer Attractions of Great Variety

Dr. F. R. Rich of the Central Pharmacy calls attention to an unusually attractive lot of theatrical offerings in Los Angeles the coming week. Of special interest is the return of "The Desert Song" for a limited run at the Mayan. "The Guardsman" will open at the Figueroa, "The Broadway Melody" at Grauman's Chinese, "The Swan" with Edward Everett Horton at the Vine Street, and everything else from popular vaudeville to Ibsen's "Ghosts." Tickets for all Los Angeles theatres may be reserved at the Central Pharmacy ensuring good seats with the minimum of bother.

Grant Takes Presidency Of Kiwanis

City Attorney Wygant Tells Salient Features of the Mattoon Act

President Ray Grant presided over his first Kiwanis meeting Tuesday noon and had a lively time of it. There was some tendency toward bolshevism on the part of members but President Ray showed his capacity for ruling with a firm hand, and a "good time was had by all" even though there were some uncomfortable moments.

Robert C. Wygant, city attorney, was introduced by President Grant, who spoke of the great pleasure he felt in presenting an old friend of law school days in Oregon. Mr. Wygant spoke on the subject of the Mattoon Act and the Central Avenue project. He spoke of the Mattoon Act as a sincere effort to frame a law which would assure a dollar's worth of value for a dollar of the taxpayer's money. It has already been amended to correct faults, and will probably be changed in some respects at this session of the legislature.

One likely change will permit a property owner at any time to pay off the assessment against his property so it will be free of any encumbrance. The present law, however, does not put a bond against the property, as the bonds are issued against the district as a whole.

Mattoon Act bonds may run as long as 30 years, said Mr. Wygant. After studying the local project and the financial situation he said he was prepared to recommend to the council that 20-year bonds be issued, but that no payments on principal be due during the first five years.

This plan will relieve the pressure on taxpayers during the period of readjustment, said Mr. Wygant. It will permit them to get their breath after the inconvenience while improvement work is in progress, to develop their property and begin to reap the benefit of the improvement before the heavy burden has to be met.

The question was raised by A. O. Pritchard concerning future installation of a sewer system and its effect on whatever paving might be laid now. Mr. Wygant said he wanted to urge strongly that everything done should be of permanent character and with full provision for all future needs, so it need not be disturbed for future improvements. He referred the sewer plans, however, to City Engineer Gierlich, who was present at the luncheon.

Mr. Gierlich proposed that instead of laying one big sewer main with laterals from the middle of the street, two smaller mains could be laid, one in either parkway or sidewalk space. This would do away with lateral pipes and trenches in the street with consequent damage to paving, would cost no more, and could be safely deferred until the installation of a complete city sewer system is actually required.

The entire cost of the highway improvements should be spread over the entire district, in the opinion of Mr. Wygant. For instance, if the highway thru the Hastings ranch is to be paved Sierra Madre will have to pay for some share of it; while if no paving is done in Sierra Madre at the present time there will be nothing for the Hastings property to help pay for. That gives a reason for urging the installation of the best type of improvement the district can afford to pay for all at one time.

Float Given Silver Vase At Pasadena

Special Award of Merit Is Given by Judges of Parade

Small Deficit Reported When Work of Committee Is Finished

Sierra Madre's float entered in the Tournament of Roses parade was given a special award by the judges, the prize being a tall hammered silver vase which is now on exhibition in the window of the News office. The prize was received by Mrs. Emil Sturthal on behalf of the local committee at a luncheon given in Pasadena by the tournament association.

Only four or five special awards were made, these going to floats which did not win one of the first three prizes in their class but which were thought by the judges to have such merit as to deserve recognition. Others receiving special awards were the city of San Francisco and the Raymond Hotel.

Finances of the float enterprise have been compiled by W. R. Humphries as follows: Receipts: Balance from previous year, $4.19; received from city, $200; from Mrs. Herman Hall, $5; from Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thayer, Jr., $5; total, $214.19. Expenses: Flowers, $155.80; materials, $27.57; costumes, $36.50; total, $219.87.

The expenditure of the sum named, plus about a million dollars worth of cooperation and hard work by volunteers, produced the float which brought such favorable recognition. But, as may be seen, there is a deficit of $5.68. Who wants to come forward with the amount necessary to wipe the slate clean?

Mrs. Franka Webb Seriously Injured In a Jostling Crowd

Word was received by Sierra Madre friends this week that Mrs. Franka A. Webb, 171 South Baldwin Avenue, had suffered the fracture of a thigh bone and was confined to the California Lutheran Hospital. The injury was sustained on Sunday, Jan. 6, in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Webb's accident occurred while she was waiting for a downtown street car. She was standing in the pedestrian zone as the car approached, and in the rush of the crowd she was thrown to the pavement with great force.

Because of the fact that Mrs. Webb spends part of her time in her quarters at the Biltmore Hotel her absence from the Sierra Madre home which she occupies alone did not cause concern to her neighbors. Visitors who called this week after learning of her injury found her doing as well as could be expected.

Pictures of Mexico Are Given Club

Dr. Schrock of Santa Ana Tells of Recent Travels

Vivid pictures of Mexico as it is today were presented to the Men's Community Club in the Congregational Church last night by Dr. Perry F. Schrock of Santa Ana. Having spent some weeks in Mexico last fall, Dr. Schrock said frankly he could only speak as a superficial observer. But the group with whom he traveled had special opportunities to obtain reliable information from the ministry of education and other sources. In addition, he showed himself as a keen-eyed traveler, who held his hearers spellbound.

Miss Moreland Kortkamp entertained the club with delightful piano solos, and the men entertained themselves by drawing pictures of each other which were later projected on the screen with startling effect.

Annual election of officers resulted in the choice of George B. Morgridge as president, R. R. Hartman and R. O. Calkin vice presidents, and P. C. Kortkamp secretary. The meeting followed the serving of a delicious and bountiful dinner by the women of the church.

SURPLUS FRUIT IS WELL PLACED AT CHILDREN'S HOME

Fresh fruit supplies are needed for the Plaza Community Home, 247 North Baldwin Avenue, according to Miss Elsie Gibson, superintendent. During the past week or two the children have been reveling in their enjoyment of a generous gift of oranges from the grounds of Jack Paschal. But these are used up and other citizens who might like to give similar pleasure now have an opportunity.

It is not Miss Gibson's wish that anyone go out and buy fruit to be sent to the home. However, many people have surplus fruit on their trees which they would not market anyway, and would doubtless be glad to contribute for such a worthy cause if they knew of the need.

Appreciative Crowd Hears Club Recital

Violin and Piano Program by Girls Reveals Real Musicianship

The junior recital last Friday when the Woman's Club music section presented Elizabeth Morgridge and Moreland Kortkamp in violin and piano numbers was the outstanding musical event of the club year.

The community, cognizant of the unusual ability and talent of these 12-year-old girls, filled every chair in the auditorium and necessitated bringing in many additional seats. Many Pasadena people were also present.

It was delightfully refreshing to see such unaffected charm and poise in these young performers. They amazed their listeners not only by their proficiency in difficult technique but by their spontaneity and carefree abandon, seemingly unaware that they were doing anything difficult or unusual. Both played entirely from memory.

Elizabeth Morgridge, a pupil of Oskar Seiling, played the difficult Grieg Sonata No. 1 in F in a truly artistic manner. In the sonata, with violin and piano parts equally important, there was remarkable finish and perfect accord in the performance of the young violinist with her mother, Mrs. George B. Morgridge, at the piano. Her other numbers afforded opportunity for display of her ability in a variety of types of music.

Moreland Kortkamp, a pupil of Mrs. Morgridge, gave her friends a genuine surprise, having been less before the public than her associate. She played a remarkable variety of numbers with even ability and delightful interpretation. A fitting climax was the final number, the intricate "Scherzo," by Oscar Rasbach. He was in the audience and was warmly applauded upon being asked to stand. He pronounced Moreland's performance of the piece as truly remarkable.

Both performers were accorded enthusiastic applause and accolades. Practically the entire audience remained to congratulate them after the program and to predict a brilliant future for them.

Mrs. Morgridge, the section chairman, deserves much credit for the recital which was her gift to the club members and community. She not only proved how thoroughly delightful and interesting a program by the best composers can be, but added in large measure to its success by her finished accompaniments. — Mrs. J. H. R.

The General Health Bureau of New York City sends out a warning against the present flu epidemic and asks all persons to drink from six to eight glasses of water per day as the best means of keeping healthy. A warning is issued against the use of the common cup.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Benninghoff of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived this week for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson. Mrs. Benninghoff and Mrs. Johnson are sisters. Both families left this morning for San Diego for a few days of sight seeing.

At the banquet held by the National Aeronautical Association at the Los Angeles chamber of commerce Monday night Sierra Madre was represented by Walter W. Alley, Donald C. Ashmore, Alfred and Wolfgang Reitherman.

Out-of-Door Entertainments To Be Staked in City Park

Directors Wipe Out All Outstanding Indebtedness Against Body

With the financial outlook considerably brighter than at any time within the past three years, the directors turned to the matter of cleaning up the city in preparation for the thousands of people who will visit Sierra Madre soon to gaze upon one of the eighth wonders of the world—the famous Wistaria Vine. Cooperating with the Woman's Club and other civic organizations, the chamber of commerce will make a strong effort to see that all vacant lots in the city, and especially those on Central, Baldwin, Auburn and Carter, be put in presentable condition. The city council will probably pass an ordinance affecting out-of-town property owners, making it possible to assess a share of the cost of clean-up against vacant property which is at present receiving little or no care.

As a final touch to the program it is likely that a "clean-up" day will be held, when volunteers will arm themselves with rake and hoe and scour the town "behind the ears." A lunch at noon will be a part of the day's program.

The entertainment committee, under the chairmanship of W. R. Humphries, reported that the Woman's Club had been secured for a dinner and entertainment on the night of Thursday, January 31. A splendid dinner will be prepared to which the public will be cordially invited. Following the dinner, a series of short talks by prominent residents, and an address by a well known speaker will be given. Entertainment features will conclude an evening that will offer much to the progress of the city.

It was also announced that on Thursday evening, February 21, a dinner meeting will be held with the members of the city planning commission as guests of honor. Various phases of city development will come up for discussion.

On the evening of March 21, a meeting is announced to discuss the local school situation. The members of the school board, members of the city council, and members of the chamber of commerce will be asked to state their views on this matter of great importance, and a plan of action may follow as a result of the meeting, which will be preceded by a dinner, to which the public is invited.

The need of immediate action in the matter of providing a suitable place for the holding of out-of-door entertainments in the park was discussed at considerable length. The need of such facilities was demonstrated during the past summer when several splendid entertainments were offered in spite of many handicaps.

The entertainment committee is already at work on a series of entertainments for the coming summer, and immediate steps should be taken to insure success.

Attention was called to the fact that there is a real need in the city park for several glass plates where picnickers could prepare meats and hot beverages. A great number of people used the park last year for picnics, the greater portion of whom were tourists who were struck with the unusual beauty of the park grounds.

At the next regular meeting, directors appointed by the various civic clubs will be present, representing the Kiwanis club, Woman's club, Firemen, P.T.A., Canyon Improvement Association, the American Legion, and Auxiliary. J. C. Hensley, of the Firemen's club and T. N. Webster of the Kiwanis club, were present at Monday night's meeting.

A natural cold-storage plant centuries old has been a boon to the reindeer industry at Elephant Point, Alaska. A tunnel was cut for 100 feet into an immense glacier, then a shaft sent up thru the top for circulation of air. Several individual chambers or rooms were hewn out of the ice to hold in cold storage about 5000 reindeer carcasses to await the arrival of refrigerator ships to transport the meat to Seattle.

The earliest bells were probably not cast, but made of plates riveted together. An example is St. Patrick's bell preserved at Belfast which is six inches high and adorned with gold and silver filigree work. It is believed that it is this bell which is alluded to in the Ulster annals of 552.

JUST COMMON SENSE

HORRIBLE examples and wonderful opportunities alternate on the Sierra Madre landscape, so far as subdivisions are concerned. The men who laid out Sierra Madre into a community of small ranches did a good job. They divided it with four streets running east and west and four streets running north and south. But the men who followed after and cut up these parcels of from 15 to 30 acres into town lots made a mess of the business.

Skeptics as to the last statement are invited to make a test: Start at the foot of Hermosa Avenue and drive to the head of the same street. Or drive from the west end of Montecito to the east end. The jogs where subdivisions do not match up their streets, and the detours around blocks not opened ought to convince the most skeptical of the folly of uncontrolled layout of tracts.

One factor in the situation makes the adoption of a city plan and policy governing subdivisions most urgent. Subdivision of the mountain sides has not yet reached Sierra Madre, except in Sierra Madre canyon park (another horrible example perpetrated on a beautiful natural setting.) But the Sierra Madre mountainsides are going to be "discovered" by real estate operators in the not distant future. Then what are we going to do about it?

Drainage problems, safety factors on highways and dozens of things come to mind which will help to make or mar the handling of this matchless highland property. The activities of subdividers ought to be absolutely under control of the municipality, so far as their development affects the rest of the city. Now is the time to put the legislation on the books, as a safeguard. Why not profit by the horrible examples in order to make the most of the opportunities on the Sierra Madre landscape?

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

THE Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce is beginning active work for this year with a clean slate and a determination to keep its finances in the clear. And this financial metamorphosis and the program for future accomplishment as outlined by the board of directors should be ample proof that the organization is in splendid running order.

The first matter of importance will be the cleaning up of vacant lots in preparation for the throngs of visitors who will come to Sierra Madre for the Wistaria Fete. The beauty of the vine will fade rapidly if the approaches to the business district present a "down-at-the-heel" appearance.

The entertainment committee has outlined a series of concerts for the summer that will add much to the enjoyment of our citizens and visitors. And to provide a maximum of comfort for artists and audiences, certain things will have to be done in the park, especially in the way of providing a stage and dressing room facilities. This improvements will cost so little and mean so much that it is hardly possible that they will be found lacking at the beginning of the season.

But the matter of greatest importance is a program for better educational facilities, that matter being scheduled for a thorough discussion in the near future.

There are more things of important nature in the plans of the directors, all of which will be presented at the proper time. And the chamber of commerce now makes an earnest plea for support, not only from members, but from every resident who is interested in the welfare and progress of the city.

Observations

(By G. B. M.)

WHY A CAPTAIN?

Abolishing the title and post of captain on football teams is a prevalent subject for debate in the Hot Stove Conferences, in and out of college. The debate started even before California's captain-elect made New Year's day a famous event in Pasadena and won more fame than any collegiate youth should have.

The coach with a string of quarterbacks actually runs the team, say the abolitionists, so why single out one man to be called captain? The theory of having a leader for inspiration, and the custom of having an office with such supreme honor for its student occupant will be difficult to do away with.

DIRECTORS, TOO—

Orchestra directors, also, are wondering how secure is their position in the world of music. There is much talk of having orchestras without directors. In fact, there are some now in Germany, and the experiment has been tried in the United States.

How many people have remarked of some well trained organization, "They could go on and play just as well without a leader!" But they could not arrive at that stage without leadership. So why should the man who trains the musicians to work as a unit be kept out of the picture when it is presented to the public?

Variety of results secured by different men directing the same group of musicians in Hollywood Bowl provides one of the interesting phases of orchestra music, and proves the value of conductors. Even the mannerisms of some of the leaders are interesting, although some may be obviously for show.

CONDUCTOR BY ACCIDENT—

That reminds me of a story told me by a well known Los Angeles musician of how Creator started his career as a spectacular conductor. Both were members of an orchestra which came over from Italy with an opera company and went on the rocks in San Francisco. The orchestra was then booked to play twice a day in an amusement park.

One afternoon the conductor (schooled as such in an Italian conservatory) was too ill to appear. The orchestra members looked around to see who should substitute. Some one proposed Creator, who was blind in one eye and the object of much chaffing by his fellow musicians. So Creator took the baton for the first time. In the course of the concert, in turning from one section of the orchestra to the other, he knocked over the music stand which he did not see because of the blind eye. That made him nervous and in his irritation he became so demonstrative in his conducting that the audience applauded vociferously.

When the night concert approached the orchestra members told Creator to keep up his spectacular gesticulations which had been started by the mishap. The audience went wild over it, the critics fell for it and the newspapers proclaimed the discovery of a great new conductor.

CHEERING NEWS—

That was a wonderful piece of news announced in Los Angeles this week, to the effect that William A. Clark, Jr., will continue another five years as guarantor against the annual $200,000 deficit of the Philharmonic Orchestra. He has already been the sole guarantor for ten years, in which time he has made a contribution to the musical life and growth of Southern California with few parallels anywhere.

It had been Mr. Clark's hope that by this time the orchestra would be self-supporting, or that sufficient interest would be aroused in other quarters to keep it going. Hence the announcement some months ago that the present season would mark the end of his sponsorship.

However, it was unthinkable that Mr. Clark would allow the orchestra to deteriorate or be discontinued after putting into it such an amount of money and heartfelt interest. So the announcement of his continued liberal support is not surprising.

In 1900 it was said that the incandescent lamp with carbon filament was so perfect a device that it could never be much improved. It was at about that date that industrial research was inaugurated in the electrical industry. Since then the efficiency of the incandescent lamp has been approximately quadrupled, and the great increase in the intensities of artificial lighting made possible by the cheaper light. The new applications created by the new lamps have had a far-reaching effect on our industrial prosperity.

HAPPINESS IN THE HOME

We expect "Home" to be comfortable. In these modern times it is more than a mere shelter. It is the spot around which we shape our activities and plan our lives.

When we think of "Home" we think of comfort, ease, good cheer, peace, and joyous contact with those we love.

Warmth is essential to comfort in the home. A house that is cold and damp breeds irritation and sharp words, discomfort and unrest. Such a house is NOT a "Home."

When the living room, the dining room, bathroom and bedrooms are comfortable, almost any mere "house" becomes a "Home," in the true meaning of the word.

Let us help you plan for more comfort in YOUR home. See our gas furnaces, gas steam radiators, gas Radiantfires, and other comfort making equipment for every room. More heat per dollar, less work and less worry—when you use gas.

Are You Planning to Build a New Home?

Let us help you with plans for the convenient placing of gas connections where they will give you the best service. You will save money by using this free consultant service before your building plans are completed.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

A surprise house warming and kitchen shower was given Saturday evening at "Old Kentucky Home" for Mr. and Mrs. Blake C. Maxwell, recent bride and groom. At 7:30 a group of neighbors and friends, in costume, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Straw and proceeded to the Maxwell cottage, carrying a clothes basket and pushing a wheelbarrow laden with utensils, a handsome receiving set and refreshments for the occasion. After the opening of packages, which afforded much amusement, William A. Thomas entertained the guests most delightfully with a number of recitations and acts in costume, responding again and again to encores. Just before midnight the guests reluctantly departed for their homes, a. declaring the evening a huge success. Those present, besides the guests of honor, were Robert Engle, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Croxson, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarty, Mmes. Dale Straw, Cora Lee Ogle, Beatrice Engle, Ella A. Cadmus, Messrs. George L. Burr, J. R. Thompson, Wm. A. Thomas and J. F. Mercereau, Misses Minerva Boatright and Laura E. Cadmus.

A picnic dinner was served at noon to the guests, on tables attractively placed out-of-doors under the live oaks. Among the guests were Mrs. Burton's uncles, Samuel R. Vansant, ex-governor of Minnesota, and the Honorable N. C. Vane of Illinois, her sister Mrs. L. M. Carey of Venice, and her grandchildren, John Foreman of the Battleship Mississippi, Miss Katherine F. Burton and John Burton, Jr. of Glendale. Other guests included Mrs. W. A. Jenkins of Rockport, Missouri, Miss Olive Taylor, Miss Edna Danielson of Minneapolis, Mr. F. W. Wald, wife and daughter of Alhambra, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stenz of Monrovia.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Griswold entertained 120 members of the Nature Club of Southern California on Sunday in the attractive grounds of their canyon home, "Cuddle Inn, Three Twin Oaks." The club, of which Prof. Alfred J. Cookman, teacher of biology in Pomona high school is president, and Miss Dora Dayton of Los Angeles business manager, spent the early forenoon at the Coolidge Rare Plant Gardens in Pasadena before coming to the canyon. They brought with them from the gardens a number of beautiful plants, among them Scotch and French Heather, which they presented to Mr. and Mrs. Griswold in token of appreciation. After enjoying a delightful lunch under the trees, where tables were set in a bower of growing ferns and begonias, the guests departed for their homes declaring themselves charmed with the natural beauty of the spot and hoping to return again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox have as their guests, Mrs. Cox's father and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. L'Ecluse of Long Island. B. F. Davis of Long Beach enjoyed the week-end at his cottage "Bridge Inn" on Brookside Lane.

After reading in this column a week ago the item relative to the peace on the hill-top since the removal of barking dogs, some residents suggest that the canyon would also be a quiet place in which to sleep were it not for the crowing of roosters nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stelle are the proud parents of a baby son, David Winton, born in the Pasadena hospital on Christmas morning. The mother and young son returned to their home on Woodland Drive last week and are both doing nicely. David Winton holds the honor of being the only babe born in Pasadena on Christmas morning.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

At the last regular meeting of the Fire Department, we had our usual good attendance. Part of the early evening was devoted to 1st aid instruction, at which time the art of carrying an unconscious person was taught. This is essential to a fire department and the boys are taking the lessons in a serious manner.

During the business meeting our sanctimonious chief was called to rattle the "cuss can" to the tune of a dime. He responded cheerfully (but with regret). No one was fined for lack of proper recitation or lack of tinfoil. Some of the "gang" brought in some newspapers, etc.

A favorable report was made on the Christmas Tree event. Everything is paid up and so far we have heard no complaints.

The meeting was "topped off" with a wonderful feed, including several of Mrs. Petzel's great mince pies. You have never tasted a real mince pie until you taste Mrs. Petzel's. Her recipe is not for sale, but if we know her, it is available.

Bob Babbitt, Jim Heasley, Chief Richards and myself left early in order to get in a few hours sleep before starting for Brawley, where the So. Calif. Fire Chiefs convention was held. Chief Richards made up a party of four to attend this and we enjoyed the trip immensely as we shall try to prove to you.

At 2 a. m. Bob Babbitt and Jim Heasley awakened us from sound sleep and at 2:45 we left Sierra Madre. The first few miles were thrilling, despite the local territory being familiar. To one who is not used to it, to be out on the road at this hour is a thrill. Chief Richards steered the car for the first hour or so, maybe three hours—anyway he took a good crack at it. He is most too careful for such a long drive for when Jim Heasley took the wheel, he must have thought we were late, by the way he sped. He drove so fast and so long that neither Bob nor myself ever got a chance to drive at all on our way to Brawley.

Jim was so busy driving that we had to light his smokes and place them in his lips for him. On one occasion the chief placed one with the hot end to his lips, causing considerable sputtering. Chief Richards claims it was purely accidental and not intentional, but Jim doubted it very much and drove ten miles per faster. Chief Richards' much argument and squabble as to which was the best way we finally landed at Banning for breakfast—that is all but Bob who had fallen into a sound sleep. At Banning we found we were among the early birds for breakfast at an all night restaurant. After filling up our tanks with waffles, hot cakes, ham and coffee we proceeded to fill the chief's Essex up with gasoline and oil and on with the journey.

What a picture to see the sun rise over the hills ahead of us. As the sun came up in full, we were directly in its line, making driving somewhat precarious. We passed many large trucks loaded with hay and other cargo, to and from the Imperial Valley. We thought we were going too fast, when Bob Babbitt notified us that a motor officer was behind us, and we slowed down. The officer overtook us, only to pass us up. Behind him came a large bus loaded with the Pasadena Firemen's Band, enroute to the chief's convention. They also passed us.

up, causing a sort of "pass up" game from there into Indio where Babbitt yelled for something to eat. After having had something to eat, Bob was very much awake and nearly put us all to sleep with a lot of chestnut stories. Some of 'em were so old, that they were mouldy, while others were electrically wired (shocking).

The column will not permit all the good things this trip afforded. Due to lack of space, we must abridge the story into short and snappy sentences.

We arrived at Brawley at about 9 a. m. in plenty of time to register and attend the 10-o'clock meeting. The meeting was in regular firemen style (short and to the point). At no time was the meeting dull and no one talked too long. This allowed us to adjourn in plenty of time to get ready for the big wild-duck dinner served by the Brawley fire department. 'Twas some feed. A great many things relative to fire-fighting were discussed at the meetings.

In the late afternoon, the Sierra Madre firemen were guests of the Calexico Department. We were taken across the line into Mexicali, where we saw and heard things strictly foreign to a good hill resident. We had a wonderful time. We would recommend a visit to the Imperial Valley region and its fire departments.

Tonight is First-Aid night. There will only be about one or two more of these classes, so let's have a good turnout. Some of Monrovia's firemen have promised to come over for tonight.

The chief will not bore you with the details of our trip, so don't be afraid to attend the meetings.

Just a few don't—
Don't do your dry-cleaning indoors if you use gasoline, kerosene, benzene, or any inflammable substance.

Don't try to burn too many papers at once.
Don't store matches where rodents may chew at them.
Don't allow an open can of gasoline to sit around your garage. Don't forget its a cold night and the FIRE'S OUT!

Order your engraved cards and stationery from the Sierra Madre News. We can advise you as to the correct type styles, and card and stationery sizes, and guarantee perfect work. Let us keep you plates on file; reordering will then be a simple process—our office will be as near to you as your house phone.

Drivers' license laws if adequately enforced may be expected to reduce motor vehicle fatalities about 20 per cent, according to reports reaching the Auto Club of Southern California. This conclusion is based on records of states having such laws in operation.

From the Old News Files

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Monday Musical Club met at the home of Miss Hazel Hill, with a program under direction of Mrs. I. N. Ward and Mrs. J. C. Dickson. Numbers were given by Misses Edna Staples, Evelyn Rice, Mrs. C. H. Baker, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Heller and Mr. Jack Stevenson.

C. W. Jones, C. F. Gray and Dr. R. H. Mackerras were chosen trustees of the Congregational Church, R. J. Lord treasurer and A. S. Mead Sunday school superintendent.

TEN YEARS AGO

W. J. Saunders resigned as a city trustee and Attorney E. W. Camp was appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Saunders and family were removing to Manhattan Beach.

The public school resumed sessions after an enforced vacation of about two months during the flu epidemic.

Woodson F. Jones bought the music and stationery business of M. C. Doucet at 31 North Baldwin.

Lieut. Raymond Andrews was awarded an "expert rifleman" badge at Quantico Marine barracks, for shooting 255 out of a possible 300.

Language School Gets Notice In Japanese Press

The Japanese language school in Sierra Madre, with its one American boy studying along with the 20 pupils of Japanese parentage has been getting publicity outside of Sierra Madre. The Times carried a story about the Christmas program, and the Los Angeles Daily Japanese American had the following recently, the translation being furnished by a local subscriber:

"American Pupil in Japanese Language School in Sierra Madre."

"The Japanese Language School in Sierra Madre celebrated Christmas on December 23. The program for the day was very interesting. Howard Morgridge, son of Mr. Morgridge who is editor of the Sierra Madre News, attracted the attention of the attendants. He also appeared on the program and took his share in it."

"It is interesting to note that an American boy endeavors to learn the Japanese language. This kind of phenomenon is, indeed, worthy to be broadcast in this part of the state."

Lenten Missions Announced by Bishop Cantwell

Of great interest to all Catholic Church members in Sierra Madre and vicinity is the announcement of perfected plans for simultaneous Lenten mission throughout the Catholic diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, made by Bishop John J. Cantwell, D.D. The Bishop revealed that Pope Pius XI has indicated a keen interest in Southern California, and has written a letter of the highest commendation and encouragement for the mission. Bishop Cantwell stated that His Holiness "authorizes, besides a blessing which is given at the end of all missions, another special blessing and indulgence granted by himself to all of those who cooperate to the success of the mission."

Bishop Cantwell's announcement also made public the fact that all of the great Missionary Orders of the Church will participate in the Lenten effort, and that more than 130 of the foremost pulpits orators in Catholic circles, will be heard. The Orders to participate are: Augustinians, Capuchins, Carmelites, Claretians, Dominicans, Franciscans, Jesuits, Oblates, Passionists, Paulists, Redemptorists, Servites, Salesians and Vincentians. It was stated that many of the Missioners will come from Monasteries and Order Houses as far east as Boston. The task of assigning the missionary fathers to the more than 250 churches of the Diocese is now under way, it was stated.

It was stated by Rev. B. J. Dolan, Chancellor of the Diocese, that throughout all the parishes of the Diocese a church census is now being taken, and that committees of the laity have been formed to assist the pastors in making the mission a success.

A movement is being agitated in the South Santa Anita district, of Arcadia, now a part of the Pasadena high school district, to withdraw from Pasadena and join the El Monte district. The proposed separation is the culmination of a controversy occurring when the Pasadena district failed to route its school bus thru the South Santa Anita district. The complainants state their children are forced to pay bus charges to reach Pasadena High School.

Twenty-one airplanes helped to dedicate Harmon Field, San Jacinto's municipal air port, recently. The airman and their planes put on a thrilling show for the 3500 people who participated in the exercises.

Welfare Of Children Is PTA Topic

Director C. H. Peterson of the Bureau of Child Welfare and Guidance of the Pasadena schools gave the Parent-Teacher Association a real treat in his address at their Wednesday meeting. He made this highly organized work appear as one of the most important in the school system.

Five departments come within the scope of Mr. Peterson's work, attendance, health, guidance, accounting and cafeterias. Under attendance, the delinquent and problem pupils receive special attention, the effort being to guide them into right paths without any sort of stigma attaching to their treatment, as used to result from sending them to the house of correction. The importance of character and a good name are kept uppermost.

Health measures include proper planning and care of buildings, recreation, health inspection, special corrective work in physical education, attention to teeth, vision and defective speech. Orientation work is gaining increased attention. Pupils are given every possible assistance in choosing studies and goals for which they are qualified. The accounting system provides a marvelously complete record of the student's personal record in studies and every other phase of activity through his school career. The school cafeterias are of great assistance in maintaining health through correct menus.

All Sierra Madre pupils in the seventh grade and higher come within the scope of this elaborate welfare organization. Mr. Peterson said he would be glad to render any assistance possible to parents of children in the lower grades who might be in need of advice on special problems.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Stimling, president of the association. Mrs. Moore, the treasurer, reported cash on hand in the sum of $193.56. Receipts from the Halloween dinner were $188.90. Owing to the generosity of citizens the expenses were kept down to $42.17, leaving a large net profit.

Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal, announced that on Wednesday, January 30, the school in a body will go by special P. E. train to see the Mission Play at San Gabriel. Special rates have been arranged. Tickets must be purchased from Miss Steinberger, who urges as many mothers as possible to take advantage of the low rates and go with the children.

The program was enlivened by a group of songs given by the 5B grade, which won the contest for securing the largest number of members for the P.T.A. in the recent contest.

Basketball Is Popular Among Boys

Last Friday evening the basketball team representing the Congregational Church journeyed to Pasadena and defeated La Canada in the first league game in the league formed by 4 churches of La Canada, Oneonta, Pasadena and Sierra Madre.

The game was fast and winner was in doubt until the final whistle. The score by quarters indicates the closeness of the game. First quarter, 4 to 3, Sierra Madre; second quarter, 8 to 6, La Canada; third quarter, 14 to 8, La Canada; and in the fourth quarter Sierra Madre came from behind to take the game 18 to 14. Patterson starred for Sierra Madre, sinking four field goals in the last quarter. The lineups:

Sierra Madre La Canada
Patterson, (11) rf D. Green (5)
W. Bandy lf Letty (2)
W. Reitherman c Green (5)
F. Lalone lg Burris
Elk (7) rg Moore (2)

Tonight the Sierra Madre team will invade Oneonta Park for a game, and next Friday night the Pasadena team will come to Sierra Madre for a game.

The local team, and others of the older boys hold regular practice in the Congregational Church on Tuesday and Thursday nights, at 8 o'clock. Younger boys who are ambitious to play basketball will be given an opportunity on the same nights between 6:45 and 8. Dr. Elk suggests that boys up to 16 years who would like to play, appear and register, and if there are enough a league will be formed and a regular series of games scheduled.

With the increase of silly talk on the subject of how and why the 18th amendment cannot be enforced, it is becoming increasingly apparent that the time is drawing near when prohibition will be as easily enforced as discipline is carried on in a well-conducted school. For after all, grown-ups are more or less children, and it just happens that prohibition "is their weakness now." Up to the present time it has seemed more or less a game of hide and seek, with everybody hiding and the "seeker" fast asleep.

Enforcement in all lines has been a joke, more or less, in the larger cities for years past. But Mr. John Henry Public has not been "touched" until the ramifications of the liquor business began to affect all the other branches of crime, and now it is reaching the point where something will have to be done about it.

What makes bootlegging so profitable, anyhow? Do the moonshiners bootleg their stuff to other moonshiners, making huge fortunes by "taking in each other's washings," so to speak. Hardly! Their revenue comes from people who, for the most part, would really like to see the law enforced but, on the other hand, want to keep up with the Joneses.

But there is so much money in the liquor business now, that the bootleggers are getting too greedy—they are killing each other off so fast that the price of "moon" will soon be prohibitive to all but the wealthiest—and they are getting pretty sick of the whole business themselves.

Rich bootleggers make second-story men jealous, and the latter become out-and-out bandits. Kidnappings lend their horrors to the general scheme of things, while murder is becoming so common that a case hardly ever gets a front page "spread" unless it happens in Hollywood.

And why don't we hear something about the failure of the laws against murder? Out of 230 cases reported in New York City in 1928, arrests were made in only two cases, according to the Literary Digest. Does that mean that the law against murder should be repealed?

Hardly, brother! It means that Mr. John Henry Public has got to expectorate on his metacarpus, pick up a few baseball bats and begin to smite on the jawbone a lot of the asses in public office who have been making monkeys out of the rest of us.

And Mr. John Public could do worse than start on a few of the jurymen (and women) who have helped make the laws a farce by acquitting malefactors charged with crimes that would sicken a hungry feline on a "salad wagon." Go to it, John, and DO YOUR DUTY!

J. E. Carpenter has a motto for the chamber of commerce that is too good to be suppressed. It is: "Trade your hammer for a horn; take your place in the parade, and let's get a-movin'!"

The corner-stone of a $5,750,000 building for the department of agriculture has been laid in Washington. The farmers will be relieved to know that the completed structure "will form the world's largest single housing establishment for men and women engaged in advancing agriculture." Everybody will get a chance to work in it but the farmer.

The Baseball Nut

Yours truly is of the opinion that a goodly number of the many fans who turned out last Sunday at the baseball grounds were disappointed, as the Watts Monarchs panned out to be—oh! Well, in other words, terrible. Watts showed nothing of the class they bro't to Sierra Madre while when they beat the locals in a hotly contested game. In the second inning after two were down, several bad throws to first and more errors, mostly contributed by their third baseman, who happened to be field captain. He decided it was high time to relieve the pitcher. This was the suicidal move that killed Watts' chances for victory.

In the fifth inning Watts scored their first run, but by this time the locals had crossed the pan 14 times. Only once did Watts show any class and that was in the 7th when they crossed the plate for four tallies. Their third baseman took the mound in the third inning and finally succeeded in checking the slaughter of his team mates, letting the locals down with only two runs after the third inning. The grand finale was 16 to 7 in favor of the Merchants.

Emil Smith started for the locals and pitched a beautiful game the six innings he was doing the mound duty, allowing only 1 run and adding more victims to his list of strikeouts. Scott relieved him in the seventh and managed to get in hot water several times, but came thru o.k.

Say, if every man on the team could cover as much territory as Leo Smith out in the left field garden, I think Manager Coleman would arrange some games with the majors out here during spring training. Miller got his usual number of hits, three hits out of four trips to the plate. This kid Rothwell looked like a million dollars Sunday at short. He also got his usual number of hits. Lama and Langworthy are working nice behind the plate although Bill wandered away from the plate last Sunday when Fred die Lalone made a pretty throw from the out-field to home with no one there to tag the runner coming home.

We are advised the Pasadena Athletic Club will be here next Sunday. This is one of the fastest clubs in semi-pro baseball. See you at the game Sunday.

The score:
Monarchs 0 0 0 1 0 4 1 0—7
Merchants 2 8 4 0 1 1 0 0 x—16

Never been right since the flu?

Lots of people have been like that. Some have continuing headaches, some have ear trouble, some have digestive disorders, others just can't retain their strength. In every such case I have treated, the patient has been substantially benefited and put on the road to normal health through chiropractic adjustments which removed the cause of the trouble.

Give Chiropractic a chance.
